Russian Space Fliers Soar In New Orbit: Wedded Bliss

MOSCOW (AP) — Cosmonauts Valentina Tereshkova, 26, and Andrian Nikolayev, 34, were in a new kind of orbit today—wedded bliss.
 They were married in a glittering wedding Sunday. Soviet chiefs used the occasion to drop hints the world's first cosmic couple may be going back into orbit around the earth.
 The Kremlin chiefs left no doubt they want the blonde Valentina to have children. Among other reasons, they want to study any possible effects of space-traveling parents on children.
 Premier Khrushchev introduced each of 21 toasts at the reception, attended by 300 guests including the Soviet Union's political, military, scientific, theatrical and literary great, and the other cosmonauts.
 The wedding at the flower-decked Palace of Marriages in downtown Moscow, was televised.
 The reception given by the Kremlin started with a noon wedding breakfast and continued with champagne toasts long into the evening. The newly-weds left on a honeymoon boat for the last glasses were drained.
 Defense Minister Radion Malinovsky and Chief Air Marshal Konstantin Vershinin rushed to the newlyweds as they entered the ballroom and presented them a girl doll with a pacifier in its mouth. They said it was a "symbolic present."
 The beaming Khrushchev said: "I didn't bring any baby buggies or pacifiers. If you have a baby, the gifts won't fail to come."
 He also boasted: "Our people is covering itself with glory. We shall give the capitalist world no peace, since it has to go."
 Mrs. Khrushchev accompanied the couple to the party. The premier escorted the mothers of the bride and bridegroom to the head table.
 The fathers of both Valentina and Nikolayev died during World War II.
 Mrs. Yuri Gagarin, wife of the world's first cosmonaut, was the matron of honor. Valery Bykovsky, who orbited at the same time as Valentina last June, was best man.

30 Troopers Sift Debris For Cause Of Arena Blast

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A team of 30 state troopers began sifting debris, piece by piece, today for clues to the cause of an explosion at the Indiana Fairgrounds Coliseum.
 The squad will go over everything in the Coliseum, officers said, to find leads to the origin of a Halloween night blast that killed 68 ice show spectators.
 After three days of probing the wreckage and listening to eye witness accounts, authorities have derived no cause for the explosion. However, some officials believe leaking gas may have produced the concrete shattering explosion that ripped today for clues to the cause of an explosion at the Indiana Fairgrounds Coliseum.
 The death toll reached 68 with four deaths over the weekend.
 Fire, concussion and rocketed debris also injured 385 persons, and 15 remained in critical condition today at Indianapolis hospitals.
 A teen-age concession worker reported seeing a blue haze enveloping an overturned cylinder beneath the destroyed grandstand just before the blast.
 Edward O. Carter, 15, said he was filling paper cups with soft drinks when he heard someone yell, "The gas is leaking. Everybody get out. Get out!"
 The youth said he ran and was only three steps out the door when he heard a big boom.
 Memorial services for the dead were presented in many Indianapolis churches Sunday.
 Many of the victims were buried today.

John Kelley, 90, Longtime Circus Attorney, Dies

BARABOO (AP) — John M. Kelley, 90, long time attorney for the Ringling Bros and Barnum & Bailey Circus and founder of the Circus World Museum at Baraboo, died today at a son's home in Laconia, N.H.
 Kelley, who had been ailing for several months, went to Laconia in September to live with a son, Curran. He had lived in Baraboo since retiring from show business.
 Kelley was born on a farm near Portage and graduated from the University of Wisconsin Law School in 1901. In 1905 he was elected Baraboo city attorney and in the same year became attorney for the Ringling Circus, a post he held until 1937. He rode as the honorary parade marshal in the first annual Fourth of July Circus parade in Milwaukee last summer.
 Besides Curran, he is survived by another son, Eoghan of Sanford, Fla., and three sisters, Miss Mary Kelley, Mrs. Ann William Humphrey, both of Port Lauderdale, Fla., and Mrs. Benjamin Hinsdale, Chicago.
 Funeral services will be held Thursday or Friday in Baraboo, home of the Ringling Circus and site of the museum. He will be buried in the family plot at the Baraboo cemetery.

Canners Cite 2 Youths For Crop Growing

MILWAUKEE — The Wisconsin Canners Association honored two Wisconsin farm youths as the state's top winners in the annual canning crops contest sponsored by the National Junior Vegetable Growers Association (NJVGA) at the opening luncheon today of their 59th annual convention.
 The award recipients are Larry B. Junion, 17, R. 1, Casco, Kewaunee County, who won first place and $150, and John H. Kruepke, 19, R. 1, Jackson, Washington County, second place and $75.

Kruepke, who placed first in last year's contest, won his second place standing with a beet growing project for the Hartford plant of Libby, McNeill and Libby. The Wisconsin top winner will compete for regional and national awards offered by NJVGA.
 This afternoon's program included addresses by C. A. Sias, New Richmond, president of the Wisconsin Canners Association; William A. Free Sr., Hungerford, Pa., president of the National Canners Association, and H. B. Sharer, New York City, sales specialist of the U. S. Rubber Tire Co.

 Association officers will be elected late today.
 The Tuesday morning session will feature a panel of Milwaukee housewives who will develop the theme: "What Every Canner Should Know About Women."

Goldwater

 spondents contacted 2,961 GOP county, state and city leaders and received 1,403 replies, slightly more than 47 per cent. They asked two questions and received these responses:
 1. "Who is the strongest potential GOP candidate against President Kennedy on the basis of present conditions? Why?"
 The result: Goldwater 1,194, Rockefeller 56 and Nixon 14.
 Sen. Thurston Morton of Kentucky, Gov. George Romney of Michigan and Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania received some scattered votes. Among dark horses mentioned were Dr. Milton Eisenhower, brother of ex-President Eisenhower, and Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam. Lodge was the GOP vice presidential candidate in 1960. Others replied "undecided."
 2. "Whom do you think the party will nominate in 1964?"
 The result: Goldwater 901, Nixon 72 and Rockefeller 64.
 Again, Morton, Scranton and Romney received some votes, but a larger number said "too early to say," or predicted Nixon would be the nominee if Goldwater failed to win on the first or second ballot.
 The Republican convention begins July 13 in San Francisco. The tentative apportionment of delegate votes is 1,308.
 Republican leaders in New Jersey and Hawaii declined to answer the questionnaire.
 But in 47 of the other 48 states, Goldwater was an overwhelming winner. The exception was New York where Rockefeller received 13 votes to the senator's 4 on the question of the "strongest candidate" and 10 to 2 as the probable nominee. On both questions, one New York leader voted for Nixon.
 Only 20 of 62 who were questioned in New York responded to the poll.
 Similarly, in California only 19 of the 58 answered the question. Of these, 16 went to Goldwater. But Nixon is known to have supporters in his home state, although he recently moved to New York City.
 Goldwater's greatest strength, as reflected by the poll, appears to be in the Midwest and the South.
 In stating their reasons for preferring Goldwater, an overwhelming number of Republican chiefs said his nomination would give the voters a "clear choice" between conservative and liberal philosophies.
 Vice versa, a number said Rockefeller's policies are "too much like Kennedy's."
 Among the other reasons expressed for supporting Goldwater were approval of his position on finance, foreign policy and states' rights. In several states, Republican leaders said his nomination would "start a crusade" and would give conservative Democrats a rallying figure.
 Some Republican leaders said they believe the drive on Goldwater's behalf is starting too early and will lose momentum before next July. Others said, however, that "the boom is just getting started."
 New Hampshire holds the first presidential primary March 10. The next primary is in Wisconsin, April 7.
 Rockefeller's divorce and remarriage were frequently cited as reasons why he cannot be considered the strongest candidate.
 A number pictured Nixon as a man waiting in the wings.

State Road Crashes Kill Nine Persons

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 Nine persons died in weekend traffic accidents and another was killed early today as Wisconsin's 1963 highway death toll rose to 749, compared with 797 on this day a year ago.
